Nurtured by Nature

Home Tree was envisioned as a habitat, not just a home. To bring this vision to life, we transplanted an entire grove of teak trees with immense care at the heart of this project. Teak trees were chosen because of their amazing innate natural benefits. They support the ecosystem by beautifying the environment, ventilating the atmosphere and preventing soil erosion. We can't wait for you to discover the magic that this grove of Teak trees holds for you – a partner on long, soulful walks, or making memories playing a game of hide and seek with the kids: this grove is your partner for life, and our gift to you.

People need places that drive experiences and build communities.

With this intent in heart and mind, at Home Tree, we've created spaces to deliver experiences that enable you to live, work, play, eat, learn, meet, bond, and grow.

Why is this important, you wonder?

Because we believe that experiences form memories, and it is our job to help you make memories that evoke joy, contentment, love, camaraderie, or the bliss of solitude.

It's time to let your home transform your reality. Welcome to Home Tree.

Peace of Mind Assured

Your home is your refuge. It plays a significant role in ensuring your peace of mind. With this philosophy at the core, Home Tree residences have been sensibly priced to enable your move into your happy place. We're delighted to bring you homes that are price conscious and deliver high value without compromise.

Inherently Resourceful

Just like you, we're mindful of our environment, and the impact we're having on it. That is why, Home Tree has been planned to drastically reduce water wastage. Intricate systems have been put in place to recycle water for daily activities like flushing, and maintenance of the surrounding landscape. We've also installed state-of-the-art Rainwater Harvesting systems to harness the tremendous amount of water that is the bounty of mother nature so that it can be utilised and doesn't go to waste.

Inspired by nature. Designed for life.

Our commitment to bringing balance and harmony between today's consumer centric lifestyle and our impact on the environment led us to ask a very important question - the sun sustains all life. Why must Home Tree be any different?

In response, we designed certain common areas to be powered by only Solar energy, and used eco-friendly products in the development of the project. So when you move into your new residence at Home Tree, be assured in the knowledge that no stone has been left unturned to make this a haven that's not just good for you, but also for the environment.

Great Design Comes First

We believe that great design has the power to evoke strong emotions that connect you to the spaces you engage with.

Interactive, yet seamlessly experienced - they truly become an extension of you.

The power of design is the foundation of the value we deliver to you, merging the ancient science of space design, with a modern aesthetic to bring you Vaastu Compliant Homes that help you grow and thrive.

Switches conveniently placed at a height of 1300 mm taking into consideration the average height of Indian Women

Electrical conduits cut by a machine and debris scooped out by a scooper instead of using a hammer and chisel to reduce stress on bricks and avoid cracks

Electrical conduits covered with a mesh before plastering with cement plaster mixed with Recron to avoid cracks

Spacers used for tiles to ensure correct alignment of tiles and to improve aesthetics

Toilets designed to divide dry and wet areas. Shower area provided with a step down of 1-1.5 inches to avoid water spilling over to the dry area

Toilets designed with under deck plumbing design and provided with grid false ceiling for easy maintenance or repair

Water conservation in toilets achieved by designing a flush system for light and heavy use

Pre-planned Sleeves inserted into the structure to avoid core cutting of slabs and beams at a later stage

Engineered Wood Frames for better quality and standardization avoiding the inherent problems of natural wood

Door frames drilled and anchor bolted to the brick wall to provide better strength and durability

Kitchen granite platform placed at height taking into consideration the average height of Indian Women

Ramps provided at all entrance areas to improve accessibility for differently abled and wheelchair users

Sensibly Planned

The interior of each apartment has been designed for optimal usage of space for an enriching experience. To this end, little details such as ventilation have also been planned with great attention so that the air in your home is always moving to keep your environment fresh. Staggered ventilation ducts in between homes are made wider than the prescribed norm in certain areas to better facilitate the movement of air and light in your home.

Outside is Inside

That cuppa chai you've always wanted to enjoy in the morning, with an expansive view of nature, those interesting, mind-opening conversations you've always wanted to host, the workout routine you've always wanted in open spaces, or alone time as you reflect on life – almost each residence gives you two massive balconies to do all this and so much more. Breathe deeply in that fresh air, now, repeat, because you're never going to run out of it.

We value your privacy, just like you do.

For us, it is of utmost importance that we enable you to live your best life. Our architects have developed and used a unique design methodology to ensure that no two homes share any common walls, so that your space is distinctively and definitely your own.

Community living at its best.

At the heart of your Home Tree residence is a central courtyard. We've borrowed this best case practice from the Roman & Chettinad styles of architecture and customised it to sync with the needs of today's lifestyle so that you have an open-air oasis, which is a rarity in dense cities. This gives you a multi-functional extension of your living space, ideal to meet your neighbours, make new friends, take your pet for a walk or simply stargaze at night, right in the middle of a restless city.

A healthy balance of work and play.

The key to living a full, happy life is your mental and physical wellbeing. This is why, the clubhouse at Home Tree comes loaded with best in class amenities for you to practice fitness, for your kids to play freely and openly, and for your friends and family to have a great time when you're hosting them.
